His Excellency Nicolas Maduro
President of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela

Excellency,

At the outset may I extend to you warm greetings from Vanuatu.

I would like to extend my sincere congratulations on your re-election as President of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela and to wish you the best of success in discharging the important and responsible duties of your position.

I would like to assure your Excellency of my entire willingness to work together with you to further enhance the friendship that exist between Vanuatu and Venezuela and raise them to another level of aspirations that will benefit our national interests.

While reiterating my best wishes for your continued success, please accept, Excellency, the assurances of my highest esteem.

Honourable Ralph Regenvanu
Minister
